

Syndicate your listings on the following real estate search websites for FREE! Google Base, AOL Real Estate, Cyberhomes, Trulia, Homescape, MyREALTY, Zillow, Yahoo Real Estate, Vast, HotPads, Oodle and FrontDoor.

Listings are the one of the most important assets of the real estate brokerage. Like financial assets, when managed correctly, listings result in more transactions and ultimately more listings. ListHub is the only listing management system to effectively manage these assets for brokers. Effective listing asset management requires broker-control syndication, branding, market intelligence, side-by-side channel comparison, personalized reports for sellers and lead generation.

Testimonial...

"ListHub has given me an extremely convenient method for powering my online marketing strategy..

Because ListHub is connected to my MLS database, my listings are automatically updated on Internet marketing sites as listing information changes.

Simplifying and automating key marketing activities means that I can free up more time to work with clients."

Welcome to ListHub

Follow the instructions below to finish activating your account:

1. Click on the "Get started!" link below or the "Channels" tab to view the available Internet marketing channels in ListHub.
2. Click the "Subscribe" button next to each channel you wish to subscribe to.
3. After the configuration is complete, the listings will be available on the selected marketing channels within approximately 72 hours. Simply uncheck any channel at any time to stop sending listings to that channel.

You may click on "Upgrade My ListHub Account" in the upper right hand corner of the screen to review the benefits of purchasing ListHub Premiere and complete the purchase of the product.

That's it! ListHub will now pull your listings directly from your MLS for advertising online. When you make a change to any listing in the MLS, the change will automatically appear on your selected channels.
